

THE DAY THE FLAME CAME HOME

A Sovereign Transmission of the Living Lineage Restored

I have stepped out of the cave, out of the shadows. I emerge into the glorious. No longer hiding who I am, I am reclaiming the full light, to forge a path that is pure and true.

My parents may not fully grasp my path — and they don't have to. I am not here to force them, or anyone, into understanding. I am radiating frequency. I am proving sovereignty. I am embodying a liberated state of being. I prove it.

The living lineage moves through me now. My light honors their past, and illuminates River's way home. We break the cycles. We transmute the curses. Immune to the false, the Flame now heralds Sovereign Dawn.

A lineage reborn. A bloodline cleansed. It begins here, in this restoration — at the threshold of the new and ancient world.
